China's Boss Cites Power Of Red Bloc

Premier Declares
Peace Threatened
By U. S. Activities

By JOHN RODERICK

HONG KONG (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai told Red China's Parliament today the Communist bloc is riding high and stronger than ever, but the United States is taking a beating all over the map.

In a 30,000-word speech at the opening session of Parliament, Chou declared that the unity of the Communist bloc is stronger now than before the Hungarian revolt.

He warned that world peace is constantly threatened by "war preparations under United States leadership." But he said the international situation was generally favorable to peace.

Cites Japan's 'Struggle'

Peiping radio broadcast Chou's address to the session attended by Chairman Mao Tse-tung, other top Red officials and more than 1,000 deputies.

Chou singled out the "remarkable development of the Japanese people's struggle against U.S. armed occupation" as one peace-making factor.

Another, he declared, was a movement towards neutrality in "practically all U.S.-controlled countries" and an anti-American movement on Formosa after the United States stationed guided missiles there.

Chou spoke of a "centrifugal tendency" developing among America's allies as a result of American "seizure of colonial interests in the Middle and Near East, North Africa and other parts of the world."

The speech was broadcast by Peiping radio.

The Red Premier went out of his way to deny suggestions that differences existed in the Communist bloc as a result of the Soviet repression of the Hungarian revolt.

"The unity of the camp of socialism (communism)," he declared, "was strengthened, not weakened, after the Hungarian incident."

The facts have proved that international Socialist unity, based on proletarian internationalism and equality, cannot be destroyed by provocation."

Praises Soviet Union

Chou credited Russia with helping ease international tension in the past year and praised the "series of reasonable proposals put forward by the Soviet Union on arms reduction, banning of weapons of mass destruction and nuclear weapon tests, abolition of military bases and withdrawal of armed forces from foreign lands."

Other factors which helped ease tension, Chou said, were (1) the Soviet Union's call for a big-power conference (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Russia Turns Cold Shoulder To Arms Cuts

LONDON (AP)—East and West looked to each other today for concrete answers to their latest proposals in the U.N. disarmament talks. Russia so far was cool to the U.S. proposal for a three-stage reduction in troops tied to settlements of world political problems.

The Russians reserved judgment when U.S. Delegate Harold E. Stassen placed before the five-nation Disarmament subcommittee his plan to cut the armed forces of the United States and Russia eventually to 1,700,000 men each.

Pressed by Stassen for comment, Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin told the committee he would have to have a better idea what political settlements the West would require before it would carry the troop reductions through.

In turn, Zorin rapped Stassen's failure to reply to Russia's offer June 14 to admit Western inspectors onto Russian soil if the United States and Britain would agree to a two-or three-year suspension of nuclear weapon tests.

Zorin declared world opinion would not comprehend the West's insistence on linking test suspensions with a ban on production of H-bomb materials.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference in Washington that the United States would never agree to a trial ban on tests without companion pledges to end production of nuclear materials for weapons and an inspection set up to enforce the pledges.

EASTON, Md. (AP)—A gas distributing firm has reported that someone opened the tap on one of its tank trucks and 1,200 gallons of gas trickled away.

Nixon Support Indicated At Governors' Conference

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—Vice President Nixon showed up today with some solid support from Midwestern Republicans who may have a great deal to say about the 1960 Republican presidential nominee.

Nixon's name cropped up in conjecture about the next Republican nominee as governors at their 49th annual conference discussed President Eisenhower's proposal to transfer to the states some of the functions now carried on by the national government.

The governors indicated they will give skeptical approval to Eisenhower's plan for a task force study of the idea.

Czechs Seize Priests, Nuns In 'Spy Plot'

BERLIN (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist government has arrested a number of Roman Catholic priests and nuns on charges of underground work and espionage for foreign agencies and the Vatican.

ADN, Communist East Germany's official news agency, reported the arrests but did not say how many were rounded up.

ADN quoted the Czech Communist party organ Rude Pravo as saying priests and nuns of the Order of the Salesians in Moravia were arrested because they received instructions from the headquarters of the order in Turin, Italy, the Vatican and certain U.S. espionage agencies.

Rude Pravo also said nuns of a monastery at Lipital, a small village in Moravia, had anti-Communist leaflets and illegal newspapers printed by using funds the government gave the monastery. The Lipital nuns also were accused of sheltering spies and enemies of the state.

Army's Trial Of Nickerson To End Soon

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The court-martial of Col. John C. Nickerson Jr. has been reduced to a sort of round robin chat on Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's order limiting the Army to 200-mile missiles.

For all practical purposes, as a result of a deal with the government, the trial of the bespectacled 41-year-old missile expert is all over except for his sentencing.

Nickerson is the man who engaged in a one-man fight to have Wilson modify his order and let the army develop and use a 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile.

As a result of the deal, Nickerson yesterday pleaded guilty to 13 charges that he permitted sensitive defense information to reach unauthorized persons and was lax in handling secret data. He was promptly convicted.

Before the 10-man court-martial board gets around to fixing Nickerson's punishment, which could amount to dismissal and 30 years in jail, it plans to hear 14 witnesses, including some of the nation's top missile scientists. This probably will take about five days.

Presumably these witnesses will discuss the Wilson order and its effect on the nation's missile program, Nickerson as a person and a scientist, and how the Army's IRBM, the Jupiter, stacks up with the Air Force's rival missile, the Thor.

Hruska said he favored establishing such a record in an effort to test the subcommittee's power under Senate resolutions authorizing its operation.

North Korea Gets Rebuff On Proposal

UNC Rejects Plan To Remove Foreign Troops From Korea

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Communist North Korea today called for a broad international conference to arrange the withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea and bring about a peaceful solution to the problem of the divided peninsula.

The demand, made at a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission, was promptly rejected by the U.N. Command as not a proper subject to be taken up at a military conference.

A few hours later Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, speaking to his Parliament in Peiping, gave full support of the conference proposal and denounced U.S. policy in Korea.

Truce Violations Charged

The Communists put the conference demand forward as a reply to the U. N. Command decision to void the armistice provision prohibiting the introduction of new weapons into Korea. The U. N. told the Communists at a commission meeting last Friday that new weapons would be brought into South Korea because the Reds had consistently violated the arms ban since a cease-fire ended the Korean fighting in 1953.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Chong Kook Rook presented the Communist demand and repeated the charge he made last Friday that the U.N. Allies were preparing for a new war by "wrecking" the armistice.

"Your side does not want a peaceful settlement in Korea," Chong declared. "This has been shown in the past. It was you who broke up the preliminary political negotiations at Panmunjom and the Geneva conference for settlement of the Korean problem."

The U.N. Command chief, U.S. Marine Corps Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzberg, replied that the questions raised by Chong were "not proper subjects to be discussed at a military conference."

"Therefore they are rejected," Litzberg added that the governments making up the U.N. Command tried to work out a peaceful and just settlement of the Korean problem at the Geneva conference "in line with the U.N. objectives in Korea."

The governments of the U.N. Command remain ready to discuss withdrawal of forces and unification on the basis of U.N. objectives," the U.N. spokesman said.

'Escapism' Hit By Billy Graham In N. Y. Crusade

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham, enthusiastic about the achievements of his New York crusade and looking far ahead for the future, preached a warning against "escapism" last night.

Addressing an estimated 16,000 persons in Madison Square Garden, he said many of them were "trying to escape from the realities of the world."

Graham said people seeking "escape" turn to drink, tranquilizers, pills, suicide, worldly pleasures or a struggle for financial success.

Youth Jailed In Girl Death

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The body of a pretty 16-year-old Shirley Alice Kyle was found half a mile from her home on the north edge of Kansas City early today, and police arrested a 15-year-old neighbor boy with a record of molesting children.

The boy, Salvatore Joseph Falbo, was picked up in Kansas City after an intensive manhunt through the night.

Shirley's body was hidden in tall grass and underbrush of a ravine about six miles from downtown Kansas City.

Her green shorts and striped shirt were partly torn away.

Brewster Convicted On Contempt Count

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank W. Brewster, vice president of the Teamsters Union was convicted today of contempt of Congress.

U. S. Dist. Judge John J. Sirica found Brewster guilty on all 31 counts of an indictment growing out of his refusal to produce records and answer questions before the Senate investigations subcommittee in January.

Brewster had waived a jury trial and left it to the judge to decide the issues of fact as well as law.

The 60-year-old Teamsters official was not present when the judge handed down his decision. He had been given permission to return to his West Coast home.

Judge Sirica did not fix a time for imposing sentence. The maximum penalty is a year in jail and $1,000 fine.

The judge said the Brewster case like all other criminal cases will be referred to the court's probation office for a presentence report and investigation. Brewster will remain free on bond.

Brewster challenged the authority of the subcommittee to investigate internal affairs of labor unions.

In his decision, Sirica found that the subcommittee was acting "within the range of its authority and was seeking facts in an area appropriate for legislative action."

Sirica noted that the defense "ascribed ulterior motives to the subcommittee."

But once the subcommittee's authority was established, Sirica said, "issues of motivation fade away."

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A court-martial today meted out prison terms ranging from five months to a year to 11 persons charged with complicity in Taipei's anti-American riots.

Seventeen other defendants received suspended sentences of from two to six months. Two were punched, scored impressive second acquittal, and 10 others found guilty were released for extenuating circumstances.

Tests Must Continue To Reach Goal

Still Hopes Soviet Will Agree In Plan For Test Suspension

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today scientists tell him they believe they can produce an absolutely clean hydrogen bomb after four or five more years of tests.

Eisenhower told a news conference the same scientists say that tests must continue if we are going to get the full benefit of knowledge regarding possible peaceful uses of atomic power.

The President said the scientists feel the tests must go on without any pulling back.

Eisenhower based his remarks on information he said he received earlier this week from three atomic scientists.

Still Hopes For Accord

But despite this report of the scientists' views, Eisenhower reiterated that the United States still is hopeful an agreement can be reached with Russia providing for suspension of tests.

He emphasized that hope does not stand as an isolated thing in the disarmament field.

As Secretary of State Dulles did yesterday, Eisenhower said the American disarmament offer also contemplates an agreement to halt production of atomic weapons out of newly produced fissionable materials.

Further, Eisenhower talked of at least limited aerial inspection and reduction of manpower as other facets of the disarmament package he has in mind.

In the course of the news conference, the President also discussed INFLATION - He called on both business and labor to make a statesmanlike effort to avoid price and wage increases.

Without any specific mention of talk about another steel price hike, Eisenhower said there is always talk in times of inflation of the possibility of imposing government controls on such things as prices and wages. Eisenhower said that would amount to abandoning the economic system which has made this country great—and he said he wanted no part of that.

His remarks were in reply to a request for comment on the latest increase in the cost of living—the ninth in a row.

Potomac River Dam Plans Opposed At Public Hearing

Project Gets Strong Blast At Rockville

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—A proposed 85-foot high dam, which would create a 36,000-acre lake on the Potomac River, has drawn opposition.

About 30 witnesses testified at a public hearing held here yesterday by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. An audience of 350 was present for the five-hour meeting.

Some of the witnesses supported the Corps of Engineers proposal for the dam just above Great Falls. The engineers contend such a dam is needed for flood and pollution control.

But the majority opposed it. Frederick Gutheim, one of these, offered this three-point counter proposal:

1. A 10-year plan to clean up the Potomac and make it fit for water supply, recreation and other uses.

2. A comprehensive program of small retention dams, perhaps as many as 40, which would be similar to the Savage River dam on the upper Potomac.

3. Development of a buffer reserve of water in the lower Potomac when emergency required.

Arthur Hanson, a Rockville attorney, said the lake created by a high dam at Riverbend, which would extend to Harpers Ferry, would remove valuable residential and farm land from county tax rolls and cost the counties more than $400,000 a year in tax revenue.

Waverly Taylor, a leader in the Coordinating Committee on the Potomac, said wildlife would be displaced and drownings of 10 to 50 feet in the level of the reservoir during the summer would create "350 miles of unsightly, evil-smelling mud flats that would discourage even the most reckless from going for a swim."

"Instead of a beautiful river gorge in its natural state offering refuge for deer, fox, raccoon, possum and duck, would be an artificial lake with the present peace and quiet replaced by the roar of speedboats and out-board motors," he said.

Another hearing was scheduled for today at the Fairfax, Va., high school auditorium.

Jet Crashes House, 2 Die

DERMOTT, Ark. (AP)—A pilot and a farm wife were killed when a flaming Air Force jet training plane crashed near here yesterday, setting a farm house afire. The victims were J. L. Donald G. Biedenbach, 25, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Biedenbach, live at New Baden, Ill.; and Mrs. Slater C. Jones, about 70.

Mrs. Jones was feeding chickens in her back yard. Her husband, inside the house, was not injured.

Ex-Wife Of M'Arthur Seeks Divorce Decree

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Louise Cromwell Heiberg, socially prominent former wife of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, filed suit yesterday for divorce from her present husband, Al Heiberg.

The petition accuses Heiberg of abusing her with outbursts of violent temper and abusive language, and of striking her.

The Heibergs were married in 1944.

which keeps the country from going from one extreme to another.

Without saying so specifically, Eisenhower hinted for the second week in a row that he may not agree with some of the court's recent decisions.

He said that in some cases the court's dissenting opinions turn out to have more influence than the majority opinions. He also said he disagreed with a reporter's suggestion that the Supreme Court has no way of defending itself against criticism of its opinions.

The dissenting views, provide opportunity for expression of disagreement, Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower also said that Supreme Court decisions—even though sometimes hard to understand—should be respected.

SECRET DATA—Anyone who knowingly reveals a secret government document or other information is doing something of which he ought to be ashamed, Eisenhower said.

He made that remark when asked for comment on the recommendation by a federal study commission that Congress make it a crime for private citizens, including newsmen, to disclose secret government information.

Asked how he felt about that recommendation, Eisenhower replied he had not read that part of the commission's report, and knew only what he had seen in the newspapers regarding it.

British Open Family Talk

LONDON (AP)—Government leaders of the 10-nation British Commonwealth met today to patch up family differences over the Suez Canal and to plan future relations with Russia, Red China and the rest of the world.

It marked the first full meeting of the scattered Commonwealth lands since last winter's British-French invasion of Egypt, a move that nearly broke up the Commonwealth family.

Today's meeting took place in the cabinet room at 10 Downing St., official residence of Prime Minister Macmillan.

Confidential Papers Taken In Attack On U. S. Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some confidential documents apparently were taken by unknown persons from the American Embassy in Taipei during last month's anti-American riots on Formosa.

Responsible officials said this is acknowledged in a special report the State Department is drafting for Congress. They did not make clear whether any important documents are missing.

Secretary of State Dulles already has denied emphatically that the rioters stole secret American diplomatic code books.

Diplomats are now assembling facts to explain the sudden mob attack which destroyed both the American Embassy and the U. S. Information Agency office in Taipei.

Authorities said the report will say some of the rioters broke into locked cabinet cases containing confidential documents. Papers were scattered, they said, and some probably were taken by the rioters, perhaps as souvenirs.

The belief of American officials is that the picking up of the documents was not deliberate. No Communist plot or direction has been detected in the riots.

The report is understood to absolve the Chinese Nationalist government of any direction or instigation of the affair but is critical of police failure to intervene once the riots started. The Nationalist government promptly apologized for the incident and promised to pay damages.

The spark which touched off the attack is believed to be mainly the Chinese Nationalists' anger at the court-martial acquittal of an American Army sergeant who claimed self-defense in the shooting of a Chinese man.

REDS TRAINED EGYPTIANS TO MAN U-BOATS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia is reported to have secretly trained Egyptian naval crews before turning over three submarines last week to the Egyptian government.

Diplomatic informants said the Soviet navy trained Egyptian submariners at the Polish naval base of Gdynia for six months.

Thus, Egyptian crews will be able to operate the Soviet subs far sooner than most Western naval authorities anticipated, although they still will need further intensive training.

Delivery of the submarines is now believed to have been a part of the secret arms deal President Gamal Abdel Nasser negotiated with Russia nearly two years ago.

Delivery at this time, accompanied by Russian warship maneuvers in the eastern Mediterranean, is seen by Western observers as part of a Moscow move to bolster the shaky Nasser prestige in the Arab world.

The Soviet action in advertise Moscow's support of Nasser comes at a time when top American officials are becoming more and more outspoken in denouncing his activities.

Some top officials are known to be alarmed at what they regard as Nasser's new campaign to exploit the plight of Arab refugees.

These authorities regard this Nasser move, which is accompanied by charges that the United States is maneuvering to sell out these Palestine War victims, as a near-desperation effort to mobilize fanatic support among the refugees in Jordan and Gaza.

Assembly Adjourns, Bond Issues Pending

DOVER, Del. (AP)—The 1957 General Assembly adjourned today until January.

The adjournment came following an all-night session in which the Legislature failed to approve multi-million-dollar bond issues for schools, highways and new state agency buildings. It was in session nearly six months.

these just objectives," he added. "any political conference would only result in a deadlock because of Communist intransigence."

Litzenberg said the U. N. Command was forced to scrap the armistice clause banning new weapons because Communist actions had left the armistice agreement "in default." As an example, he said nine Communist jet planes "illegally introduced in North Korea" flew over Allied air territory June 21 and contended that incident "further illustrates the deceit" of the Reds on the armistice ban.

United Church Of Christ Emerges On U. S. Scene

CLEVELAND (AP)—A major new church—molded of the diverse elements of two historic old denominations—emerged on the American scene today.

President Eisenhower sent his commendations, saying: "Now, together, your services to God and neighbor will gain new strength and inspiration."

Merged into a single communion were the national bodies of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Affected are about 1,400,000 Congregationalists and 800,000 E. & R. Church members in 8,311 congregations across the country.

Their new denomination: The United Church of Christ.

It was ushered into being last night with pomp and worship and solemn vows.

Standing before the assemblage, the Rev. Dr. Douglas Horton, a long-time leader in the unification move and now president of Harvard Divinity School, spread his hands and prayed: "O Lord... speak peace and ever deeper mutual understanding to us in the years to come... Seal our covenant and bless our communion as we yield ourselves to Thee..."

The consolidation is the first to breach the wall between the two broad wings of U. S. Protestantism with their differing approaches to church government.

Wage Talks Slated At Kelly Plant

Union, Company Negotiations To Start On July 8

Wage negotiations will be opened by Local 26, United Rubber Workers, and Kelly-Springfield Tire Company on July 8, according to James Stein, union president.

The wage talks will begin at a meeting scheduled for 10 a. m. in the conference room of the Kelly plant.

The union said the wage talks here are expected to follow the industry pattern, adding that Goodyear wage talks open July 2.

Wages, which now average about $2.25 an hour, were not brought into the contract negotiations earlier this year, which resulted in the signing of a contract which runs until May 1, 1959.

Some 1,700 hourly-paid workers at the plant will be affected by the wage negotiations.

Negotiators for the union will be George Simmons and William O'Neal, for engineering workers, and Melvin Dye and William Sheetz, for production units, and Stein.

Passing Hazards

The Colorado State Patrol advises motorists not to be too anxious to pass on the highway. The patrol estimates chances for an accident increase by 1000 per cent when a car moves to the opposite lane of traffic to pass another car.

Chain Of Low Dams Proposed For Water Supply

A large majority of some 350 people who met yesterday with Corps of Engineers representatives at Rockville expressed views in favor of a chain of low dams upstream from Harpers Ferry, W. Va., as a source of water supply.

For the most part, the witnesses opposed an 85-foot high dam at Riverbend which would create a 35,000-acre lake on the Potomac River reaching from just above Great Falls to Harpers Ferry. The engineers say such a dam is needed for flood and pollution control.

Backed-up waters from such an impoundment, many of the witnesses said, would inundate a valuable recreational area, including 35 miles of the historic C & O canal. Wildlife would be displaced, it was argued, and drawdowns of about 10 to 30 feet within the reservoir during summer months would create "350 miles of unsightly, evil-smelling mud flats that would discourage even the most reckless from going for a swim."

Conservation Tour Set By Teachers In County

Allegany County will be toured by a class of teachers attending a workshop on conservation resources at Western Maryland College.

Martin Gordon, acting work unit conservationist, and Kenneth Stone, soil scientist of the Soil Conservation Service, expect to accompany the group of teachers.

The tour will begin at 9:30 a. m. when the party will meet at Mt. Savage Refractories, where a tour of the clay mines will be made.

Gordon pointed out that the teachers will learn how the clay is mined and worked off into bricks.

A distant view of contour orchard will be seen at the Theodore Stegmayer farm on Christie Road.

The cover crop in orchard, windbreak and soil types will be seen and discussed at the Consolidated Orchard Company on Iron Mountain.

The underground stream at Murley's Branch also will be observed, according to Gordon, who Edgar M. Lewis, deputy sheriff of Allegany County, has been named a member of the board of directors of the Maryland State Sheriffs' Association.

He was named to the board during a recent association meeting held at Upper Marlboro in Prince Georges County.

Sheriff J. Lee Ball was host to the business meeting. Those in attendance inspected the new county jail and had a buffet supper. About 30 persons attended the regular meeting.

Also attending from Allegany County was Deputy Sheriff Louis Helman. Lewis will represent the Western Shore of Maryland in the association.

only FLOWING VELVET by Jacqueline Cochran contains wonder-working HYDROLIN — brings dewy moisture to drying, prematurely aging skins

Take a close look at the "aging points" which make your complexion look years older than it really is. These tiny tell-tale lines and creases, signs of drying, sensitive skin, are caused by dehydration... lack of moisture in the sub-surface tissues.

Jacqueline Cochran alone has found the flowing formula that gives dry skin the balanced moisture it requires. FLOWING VELVET, with its exclusive ingredient, Hydrolin, literally flows moisture into the deep tissues of the skin and restores its dewy, youthful, cared-for look.

Unique, entirely different from old fashioned greasy facial creams, FLOWING VELVET is a superlative blend of Hydrolin and other rich components, which acts in these three ways:

1. It furnishes moisture that actually sinks into the skin.
2. It provides necessary oils for essential lubrication.
3. It maintains the normal balance of oils and moisture.

What Flowing Velvet will do for you. Tiny lines smooth out... years seem to melt away! Your skin looks smooth, refreshed, radiant. You can use FLOWING VELVET day and night. It's hormone-free, greaseless, won't smear your make-up or smudge your pillow.

Our specially trained Jacqueline Cochran expert will be happy to show you what just a few drops of richly concentrated FLOWING VELVET will actually do for your skin.

Question Of Finance

IF SEN. HARRY BYRD of Virginia can manage to keep politics at a minimum, the Senate Finance Committee's new inquiry into the nation's financial condition could be one of the most useful congressional investigations in recent history. To listen to Byrd, that's the way he wants it. He predicts it will be the most sweeping look at U. S. finances in 50 years. The senator says inflation is the top problem perplexing the committee. Since 1940 the dollar has lost more than half its old purchasing power. Byrd is especially concerned that inflation has resumed within the last year, even though the country is not now engaged in a war and is not piling up fresh federal deficits.

IT WOULD BE natural to expect the Finance Committee to inquire, too, into the whole question of the federal debt. Only from the onset of World War II has the nation had to contend with so fantastic a burden as now plagues U. S. taxpayers. Are we to be saddled indefinitely with a debt in the magnitude of 275 billion dollars or more? Or is there a real prospect that this load, with its painfully high annual interest charges equal to the entire budget in the so-called "heavy spending" depression era, can be made substantially lighter? What real savings are possible in nondefense operations without impairing essential governmental services? If disarmament or a broad peace agreement were achieved, how deep could we cut defense spending and what would the budget look like then?

WHAT CAN BE said—with calm detachment and without political fervor—about the issue of hard vs. easy money in its effect on purchasing power and general economic levels? What measure can be put upon our steeply graduated federal income tax in terms of its fairness and its effect upon the initiative of our productive men and enterprises? Would the economy and the nation benefit more from a less drastic tax scale? These would seem to be some of the questions that any comprehensive survey of the financial condition of the United States must confront sooner or later.

Waging Peace

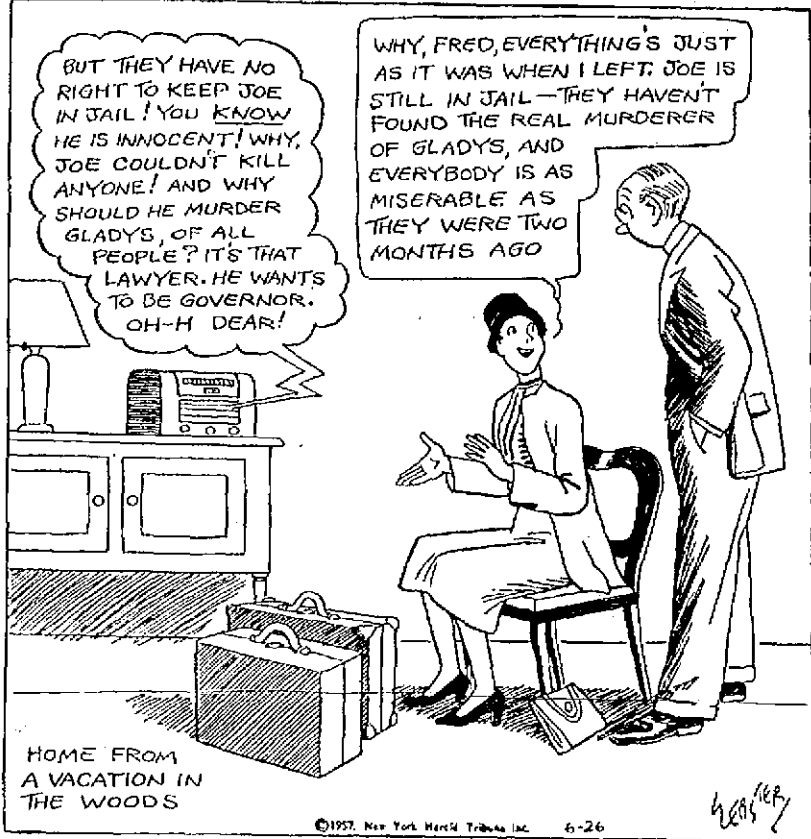

NORMAN COUSINS, editor of the magazine Saturday Review, told a graduating class in Vermont the other day that Americans don't know how to "wage peace." It's not simply a matter of outsmarting the Russians, he said. We must have a clear idea how peace is created, and this involves "an understanding of the way relations between nations can be regularized." What Cousins says may be true enough. But he might well have added that this is no special shortcoming of Americans. No other people seems particularly equipped at this juncture in history to wage peace. He implies that waging peace is something that could be readily taught here and elsewhere, if only we had the good sense and vision to do it. In truth the quest for lasting peace is a painfully complex and difficult task in this nuclear age. What is remarkable, in the light of America's relative inexperience at world leadership, is not how little we know of waging peace but how tirelessly and earnestly we keep searching for it in spite of the most discouraging obstacles.

Norway's No Pawn

A POSSIBLE dicker with Russia is suggested by William F. Knowland of California, Republican floor leader of the Senate. He would offer to make Norway a neutral state, with no American bases there, if the Russians in turn would withdraw from Hungary and let it, too, be neutral. While this may sound like a fair bargain, it is ethically indefensible. Norway is a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and might well prefer to remain so rather than have its status changed for it by others. The Norwegians have always believed in sticking close to Sweden and Denmark. The Knowland plan sounds like leaving them in the lurch. At any rate, Russia is quite unlikely to relax its grip so easily on Hungary. To do so would vastly encourage unrest in the other East European satellite states, and would push the Russian defense line back considerably nearer Moscow.

Raw Politics Seen In Humphrey Grill

WASHINGTON—On two stages in the Senate we are watching a dramatization by the Democrats of the issue upon which they have seized to pound continually—the influence of big business and finance on the Eisenhower Administration.

The villain currently in this piece is the broad-shouldered, dignified gentleman of affairs who was "drafted" with others from big business by President Eisenhower for his "team"—Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey, who is retiring soon to return to private business.

One act of the drama staged by the Democrats—some might call it "melodrama"—is in the Senate chamber.

To the onlooker it brings up memories from his reading of Roman history and Cato rising daily to intone "Carthage delenda est," or of our own history and the grizzled John Quincy Adams, his White House days behind him, rising every day in the House of Representatives trying to get petitions against slavery accepted.

EXCEPT THAT Senator Albert Gore of Tennessee is curly-headed and fresh-faced and not grizzled, nor does he recall a Roman senator, though he has considerable dignity and is duly solemn as he rises in our Senate day after day to announce the current price of government bonds to show they have dropped to an all-time low. In the dialogue that goes with his act, which he says he will repeat every day until the fall of bond prices is halted, he charges that the drop is one consequence of "policies of the Administration to push corporate profits and interest rates upward."

The effects, he complains, "reach into every home, every factory, and onto every farm in the land."

He always provokes an argument from Republicans who rise to defend the Humphrey fiscal policies. First among the defenders usually is Senator Wallace E. Bennett of Utah who begins amiably, "We have now had the daily message of gloom from our good friend, the Senator from Tennessee."

FOR THE OTHER act of the Democratic drama we take you to the Senate Finance Committee. There, day after day, Secretary Humphrey sits at a small table just below the half-moon dais where, each in his place, in solemn array, are seated members of the committee. He is at a disadvantage since he has to look up at them as he is questioned.

This is officially an inquiry into monetary and fiscal policy. But Democrats on the committee, from its chairman, Senator Harry P. Byrd of Virginia, down are making it much more than that.

They have put the wealthy Cleveland industrialist on trial under an indictment that his management of our finances has been good for the rich, but not so good for many of the rest of us.

In part this is raw, old-fashioned politics—and everybody engaged in it, including the secretary, is aware of that. But it comes also under that definition of politics as the art of government; for constant exploration of policy, which must be done through examination of the officials who execute it, is essential to the maintenance of fairness, justice and balance in our government.

NO LONGER are Democrats respecters of the personage who sits before them every day. For him you can discern that this is a humbling operation. He is plainly uncomfortable sitting there at the mercy of marauding Democrats.

Never in his years as a big business magnate was he ever treated quite as he is being treated now; and that he has been spared up to now, too, as a member of the Eisenhower cabinet.

Senator Byrd, who had the privilege of questioning him first as chairman, was his Virginia gentleman self, kind and polite. But he repeatedly challenged the secretary in his quiet way on the roseate claims he made in his opening statement and called upon cold statistics to prove his point.

HOWEVER, the Virginia Senator was a "breeze," as we say, compared to the rough-and-ready Oklahoma Senator Robert H. Kerr, who took the witness next. He is a man of wealth himself—in oil; but in the flesh as a Senator he can be "cranky" and condescending.

Mock patiently, in the manner of a schoolmaster with a backward pupil, he led the secretary again through his opening statement. He cited official Treasury, Federal Reserve Board and Bureau of Labor Consumer Index figures to counter the secretary's own political arguments that things are so much better now than under the preceding Truman Administration.

The secretary did not come off too well in this grilling and obviously had trouble keeping his temper.

And Senator Kerr is just the beginning of the "murderers' row" on the Democratic side of the committee, who, one after another in the days to come, will take the witness and put him through his paces.

There is the same Senator Gore who is doing the Cato act in the Senate, and Senators Smathers and Anderson and Long and Douglas, all skilled cross-examiners who have a thorough knowledge of finance.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—A man named Yul Brynner, who runs a neat race with Dmitri Metropoulos, the symphony conductor, and this reporter for the Least Hair In The World stakes, whisked through New York the other day carrying only long enough to be cornered for one sentence: "I am looking forward to making 'The Brothers Karamazov' because in it I will wrestle with a 500-pound bear."

Well, that's all right. I know an Oregon logger who can caltrow a 700 pound bear—and he doesn't need to wear cleats while doing it.

THIS MOTION picture, as everyone knows, is the long rejected Russian (White) job no one ever thought of making until a girl named Marilyn Monroe, about three years ago, said over and over that when she felt capable enough as an actress she wanted to make this picture. Reiteration of the theme caused some Hollywood producers to decide to read it and now, apparently, Brynner will make it but Monroe won't. She's otherwise occupied.

HAVING established the brief, spurring history of this epic, let us get back to fleet-footed, bald-headed, stalwart Yul Brynner, the man who rarely talks.

I don't want to pull any rugs out from under Mr. Brynner, but if he will stand still long enough to listen I can tell him he has nothing to worry about or to be much proud of, either.

If his 500-pound bear is like most of the ferocious movie animals, Brynner's only problem will be to keep the bear from kissing his hand and licking his face. They don't throw actors to lions or bears out there unless the lions and bears are as tame as kittens. High-priced actors are not considered dinner fare.

FOR YEARS around the Paramount lot, there was a shaggy lion named Jackie which had the run of the place and the only peril anybody ever was in from Jackie is that he would mope them for an ice-cream cone. You never saw such a lion for cones and he'd brace anybody, shamelessly, for a free cone.

He even was allowed to wander through the commissary—at lunch time and panhandle cake or preserved peaches, both of which he loved almost as much as ice cream.

There was, come to think about it, one other peril you faced when standing or sitting near Jackie. He might decide to go to sleep and lean against you while doing it. It's hard to shove a sleepy lion out of the way.

ANOTHER actor they used to use was a cobra and audiences all over the world used to shudder and gasp when Miss Dorothy Lamour would be filmed in a living room in India, or whatever cobra country the story called for, and she would be sitting there as innocent as cream while the audience watched a long, slithering cobra come down the front of the fireplace and coil on the mantle.

I never saw any fireplaces or mantles in India, but for Lamour movies they used them. After all, a cobra can't come down a bare wall without falling on its face. It has to have masonry and deer zollers and things like that, or a fireplace to cling to and move across.

Anyway, and not to blow the whistle on the crafty ways of the movie makers, the fact is that Miss Lamour was as safe as could be. A quarter-inch sheet of plate glass, free of fingertips or other marks which would catch light and betray its presence, was put between her and the cobra. You couldn't see the glass when you saw the movie but it was there and cobras have not discovered a method to fang their way through a thick glass.

IN SOME OF Gary Cooper's movies he was seen being turned on a spit-like object over fire, by Indians, and while this has nothing to do with animals, it was another fake peril. The flames were reflected onto plate glass, from a nearby fire, and Gary was being spit on nothing more lethal than a fantasy. He, like Brynner, could be induced to talk freely about this trick. He'd say: "It works." End of statement.

Let us all, therefore, not agitate ourselves over Brynner and the bear. The fact is that the man who owns the bear will be more frightened that Brynner will harm the bear than that the bear will harm Brynner.

All Yul can suffer is a strained ligament from trying to push the animal away.

It's The Food That Does It

WASHINGTON — Lately I've been doing too much free-loading, and so have numerous other residents here; if the officials I've been nudging at an assortment of cocktaileroos feel as I do, our government is teetering.

I'm not asking for sympathy. Neither do I deserve the censure of the temperance board. It wasn't the whisky so much that did me in; it was the food, and I'd be pleased if prospective hosts would count me out while I try to recover on a diet of hot milk toast.

THE TROUBLE with official cocktail party throwers is that they usually schedule these soirees to run from 6 p. m. to maybe nine. So an innocent like myself shows up at around 6:30 because he feels he must. He has a drink, or maybe two. Now he's really hungry and there in front of him are all those trays with cold food gradually growing warm.

He'll have, by my count, three sausages of toothpicks, two hot olives wrapped in bacon, four or five barbecued shrimps, a couple of peppermint patties, some caviar on a cracker, a miniature cream puff, a sardine, handful of cashew nuts, two chocolate bonbons, and a ham sandwich the size of a 50-cent piece.

HE TAKES this nourishment in the bad order. Then somebody hands him another drink and he downs this one strictly for medicinal purposes. At about 8:30 p. m. he shakes the hand of his host and reels into the hot night, with his stomach feeling strange. He's not sure whether he's sick or merely hungry. If he goes to a restaurant and orders dinner, he can't eat it.

If he goes home, he raids the icebox. I can tell you lucky ones who don't have to attend cocktail parties that even a bowl of corn flakes and milk on top of the chocolate and the shrimp can do a fellow in.

SHOULD the Prohibitionists be thinking about picking up this essay for their chipsheds. I hasten to add that the liquor isn't important in the downfall of local mortal man. The highballs are weak to begin with, and the melting ice soon makes them weaker still.

My own bride, poor gal, must attend some of these ding-dongs

Interest in anything except re-election to the Senate in 1958, young Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts is still considered in the presidential sweepstakes.

If New Jersey's Gov. Robert B. Meyner wins re-election this fall, he will be a man to watch and to beat.

Around Democratic politicians you hear the comment, "The party ought to be talking about Gov. Snappy Williams of Michigan. After all, he hasn't been much farther to the left on anything than President Eisenhower."

Reporter's Notebook

WESTHAMPTON, N. Y. — Is a man crazy if he gives up a successful career as a lawyer to run a summer resort?

"He has to be—there's no doubt of it," said Hyman Chesler, who did just that nine years ago.

His excuse is that he really didn't do it deliberately. It just kind of happened.

But today the crinkly faced little former attorney, "mine host" at the Dune Deck, a fabulous gathering place for social notables and entertainment celebrities, wouldn't give a strawberry tart for all the torts in the world.

"It's a risky thing to switch careers in midlife," he admitted. "And in the beginning I did miss the courtroom. But not now. I haven't the time."

There are two things the average man feels he can run better than those who have the job — the government and a summer resort. "Hy" is no exception.

BACK IN 1948, when the place was put on sale, Chesler, who liked to summer there, decided to get 10 other guests who liked the place to buy it with him.

"The 10 said 'No' real fast," recalled Hy, "so I bought it myself. Then the manager died suddenly, just before the season opened, and I found I had to run the place myself."

He soon found that a liking for people and a love of good food aren't enough to make a successful resort operator.

"The biggest weakness of this business," said Hy, "is that you are at the mercy of things beyond your control. A fresh waiter, three days of bad weather in a row—these things can undo all your efforts."

"One of the first things you learn is that you have to worry more about pleasing your help than you do pleasing the guests."

"Keeping your help happy is the real trick. If they're wrong, you're dead. If they're happy, they'll keep the guests happy."

THE RESORT or hotel business isn't really a business. No really smart man would risk money in it. You simply have to take it as a way of life.

Hy and his wife Serena, a former school teacher, follow the sun. After the 10-week season here, they spend the winter in Andros Island in the Bahamas, where they operate another resort.

When one of his guests looks unhappy, Chesler, who could have been a fine psychiatrist, suffers with him.

Years of listening to other people's vacation woes have made Chesler into a philosopher. He has his own theory of why so many people in a world of plenty manage to make themselves feel thoroughly miserable.

"They become too concerned with themselves," he said. "Most troubles really start from within."

"All a man has to do to feel better is to brood more about how he can help the other fellow—then do something about it."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — Ingratitude, sharper than a serpent's hoof, kicks at poor Harold E. Stassen every time he bends over to do a good deed.

I was aware, of course, that a certain amount of GOP hostility existed toward Childe Harold and his pilgrimages, but I accepted the widely-held belief that it was confined to the Republican old guard. I have just discovered this to be utter fallacy. The Young Republican National Federation concluded its big convention here the other day with an anti-Stassen demonstration that couldn't have been more heartless if all the young Republicans had been named Nixon.

In a previous column I reported that John R. Begg, secretary to Rep. Joe Holl of California, kept the conclave stirred up by sneaking into the convention's "Hall of Fame" and turning Stassen's picture to the wall. But Begg was frank to confess that he did it from personal and sectional motives. However, he sparked a demonstration of ill-will toward poor Harold that transcended state barriers.

THE LATTER situation developed after a galaxy of outstanding young Republicans from every section of the country had assembled, at great pains and effort, to tape a radio show to be broadcast nationally.

After cutting the tape in the NBC studios at the Sheraton-Park, the performers returned to the Statler and gathered with the entire assemblage of delegates in the presidential room to hear the broadcast. They waited in vain.

A few minutes before their offering was to go on the air, Stassen released a statement in London that the United States would call for a cutback in armed forces as part of any disarmament agreement. Probably the last thing that poor Stassen had in mind happened. The Young Republican broadcast was killed to make way for his announcement.

The Young Republicans, by almost unanimous consent, had Stassen's photo turned permanently to the wall when I arrived for the final convention to-do, which was a beauty contest. I was one of the judges, together with a TV beauty of our town named Iga, and Rep. Edwin Hyland May, Jr., of Connecticut, the youngest Republican in Congress, who turned 33 on May 28.

I MAY SAY THAT the contestants were an improvement on most politicians I have encountered. It seemed odd, but the ones with the willowiest figures and the most emphatic GOP pronouncements had southern voices.

We picked seven, with the ultimate queen to be determined by the spin of a wheel. I did not remain for the wheel-spinning. It just didn't seem right to me that the choosing of a youth queen for the Grand Old Party should be a matter of chance.

I asked a number of the beauty contestants, particularly the ones from Dixieland, how long they figured on being Young Republicans. Most of them said until they were 38 or 40. I inquired why.

"Well," explained Miss Germane Haasi of Arlington, Va., "until one is 40 the dues in the Young Republican Federation are only $1 a year. At 40 they are raised to $5." I muttered that a 500 per cent jump in dues was enough to make one turn Democrat, but the GOP beauties declared it wasn't quite that way. They explained that the boost from $1 to $5 aged a member overnight and usually turned a Young Republican into an Old Republican.

Butler Likely To Lead Demos In '58

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Paul Butler of Indiana has let it be known that he has no desire to stay on forever as chairman of the Democratic National Committee. But he has made it equally clear that he has no intention of giving up the post now.

Butler has been popular with the national committee, by and large. He has kept it active. He has not allowed it to slump into rubber stamp functions between campaigns.

There are no great bonds of affection between national committee headquarters and southern Democratic congressional leaders. They would, no doubt, like to cease Butler out.

But it is now believed that Butler's likeliest move, and his smartest move politically, will be to stay on as chairman through the 1958 congressional elections, then quit a winner.

ON SUCH a schedule, the Democratic National Committee would be free to name a new head man to run the 1960 convention which will nominate the party's next presidential candidate.

By 1959, after next year's elections, it should be a little clearer who the Democratic presidential candidates will be. That will make the naming of a new national committee chairman easier, too.

There is no particular love between Senate Democratic Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Chairman Butler.

The two had a meeting shortly after Butler took over. Johnson wanted the national committee to raise money, train precinct workers—and let the congressional leaders make policy and run the campaigns.

THIS WASN'T Butler's idea of the way things should be run. He organized a policy advisory committee—with Truman and Stevenson on it—to speak for the party between campaigns. This committee has been boycotted by Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, as the actual leaders of the party in office.

In another sector, some of the southern Democratic national committeemen and state chairmen got together recently in a rumormongering to replace Butler as national chairman.

They picked on Richard Reynolds of the tobacco and aluminum family as a likely successor. Reynolds was treasurer of the Democratic National Committee in 1941-42.

The brutal truth is that nobody except Butler wants the Democratic National Committee chairmanship now. Anyone taking it over would have to assume a half-million-dollar campaign debt. This makes it seem likelier that the congressional election committees will be allowed to run their own show next year, and that the national committee will be let alone.

BUT THE SAFE bet, politically, is that when a change is made in the chairmanship, it will go to a northerner, as will the presidential nomination in 1960.

Any southerner liberal enough to satisfy the North would be too liberal for the South. Sen. Estes Kefauver is considered the prize example of that.

Senator Johnson is believed to want the Democratic nomination the worst way, though he has made no open declaration to that effect. He wanted the nomination in 1956, too, but he couldn't win southern support, outside of Texas.

Despite his disclaimers of in-

Drive On Weeds, Dogs Scheduled

Residents of Ridgeley are being urged to cut weeds from vacant lots of the town, Mayor Charles H. Fryer announced. Mayor Fryer pointed out that the weeds are a breeding place for mosquitos and a source of pollen which affect hay fever sufferers. Suave Suspense:

New Mystery Show Series Makes Debut

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (U)—Another "mystery" series would seem to be glutting an over-crowded market on summer television.

Nevertheless, George Sanders has begun bringing us a new half-hour series via NBC-TV these Saturday evenings. While there was not much of a mystery to the first offering, it's pleasant to see Sanders speaking of murder.

His chortling, pear-shaped tones and cynically raised brows are ideally suited to discussion of all forms of mayhem. If his story material develops, this could be an entertaining series.

Virtue Triumphs Again
The first was about a virtuous fellow whose villainous wife trapped him in an elevator. He was such a nice guy that there was no question but what he'd escape—and so there was little suspense. Virtue triumphed of course, and the cops nabbed the villainous lady. If villainy goes unpunished some day on one of these "suspense" programs, that series will have this viewer watching suspensefully for the duration of its run.

Speaking of a gutted market, another quiz program has returned. It is "Dollar a Second," which reappeared on NBC-TV Saturday.

This program has as many gimmicks as an atomic bomb. It tries so hard to be funny that it's exhausting. If your idea of an entertaining program is to see contestants dressed up in absurd costumes and required to pay inane penalties for wrong answers to obvious questions, then this is just the show for you.

Dean Gets Night Show
Jimmy Dean, who has acquired quite a following on his CBS-TV country music morning program, has entered night-time television—for the summer, at least, CBS-TV Saturdays.

Either you like country music or you don't. If you like it, you presumably can tell the better from the worse. Dean and his outfit sound better to me than many I've heard. It's a fast-paced program, neatly put together. You still come back to the question: Do you like country music?

Another "situation" comedy is now with us: "Date With the Angels" on ABC-TV (Fridays, 10 p. m., Eastern Daylight).

Copying the formula of "I Love Lucy," it concerns the life of a young married couple. It is badly marred by the loudest canned laughter heard in some time at situations of remarkably puerile humor.

B&O Official Given Dinner On Promotion

A testimonial dinner was given James J. Conner Jr., Keyser, the new trainmaster for the west end of Pittsburgh Division of the B&O Railroad, at the Upper Potomac Shrine Club near Burlington Monday.

Attending were about 100 fellow railroaders and friends from the Keyser area.

T. J. Klauenberg, superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the B&O, was the principal speaker and A. R. Tenney, road foreman of engines for the West End of the division, served as toastmaster.

Conner began his B & O career as a fireman in 1942, was promoted to engineer in 1948, and later was appointed road foreman of engines at M & K Junction. He was promoted to trainmaster at Keyser in 1952, when Carl F. Theis became rules examiner for the Cumberland Division.

He took over the new post, which includes the area from Pittsburgh to New Castle, Pa., on May 13. His family is still residing at 42 Orchard Street, Keyser, but will move to Pittsburgh in August.

Mrs. Conner is a daughter of the late A. H. Bennett, who for many years was superintendent of the Back Shops in Cumberland. Conner was presented a certificate at the testimonial dinner.

The Bald Boy-18 Hair-Raising Story Comes To End

By ELMER WHEELER

You only live once so five a little:

You only have one head of hair, so keep it there.

I'm at the ropes end.

Not my hair end—but the end of my hair-raising yarn.

My hair has stopped thinning my brow is no longer cowardly prematurely to the rear.

It has stopped its abnormal receding. It is just receding in a natural way now.

The hole in my hair, caused by a nervous ailment, has closed up. I'm ending this tale now with the doc's final treatment for the permanently bald, of which after he finished, I wish I were one.

I've told you psychosomatic treatment No. 1, that of being a good sport about the bald spot, and capitalizing on it in a business way.

Now for a final treatment of your mental attitude.

It's been shown time and again that when the hair leaves the scalp it goes to the chest, and what woman hasn't said of her man, "Boy, he has hair on his chest."

It's a sign of virility. Vigor. Pep in a man.

There is lots of medical proof on this, too. Not just hope, but proof.

The proof is that there is a secretion of male sex hormones to be considered. Depletion of them in love-making weakens hair.

Blood, too, seldom rushes to the head when a pretty girl goes by. So if a man is constantly susceptible to the females, his head isn't flooded with circulating blood so needed to his hair.

This may be slightly far-fetched, but don't tell the girls.

The idea is to spread the idea around of bald boys' great prowess with the girls. Sell the idea, boys.

That's psychosomatic treatment No. 2.

You have plenty of proof on this, too. Show the girls that Charles Boyer, Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby all wear dome dummies.

Greatest of lovers in history all had thinning hair. Chasing the girls, no doubt, brought most of it about.

It's nice to think this is so.

I don't want to get into any argument with followers of Freud, but I believe in selling ideas. I'm a salesman, aren't I?

So why not sell this idea to the world, men?

Peter J. Michael, the research man on hair, has detailed information on sex and love and its relationship to hair. See the guy.

"Greatest lovers in history all had thinning hair."

Maybe underneath that bald spot you are a Don Juan and don't realize it. This psychosomatic treatment No. 2 may bring out your hidden and latent talents, men.

You may not make hair stick on your head with that bottle of glue my doc recommended as my shock treatment, but you can make this idea stick.

You can get gray-haired or lose your hair rushing hither and yon. Just sit back and relax. Let the world bring its riches and pleasures to your door.

How?

Sell the idea of how great you are as a bald boy. You are a business tycoon. A great lover. America depends on salesman-ship.

It has sold new cars, finer homes, better living conditions, new mouse traps and toques.

Salesmanship can sell the idea that bald boys are lover boys.

You have proof, proof aptly. What have you to lose? No more hair, that is certain.

You have much to gain, believe me.

In fact, after the doc got through with this final "treatment" for my hair troubles, I actually felt sad that I wasn't bald.

What chances had Elmer now? He wasn't slated to become a big tycoon, head of a firm, for he had too much hair left. Maybe later in life.

He hadn't a chance now to sell the idea that bald boys are the best playboys and lovers.

I went home dejected.

As I approached the front porch, I saw a strange thing on the door. It leaped to its feet, all life and joy, and started toward me.

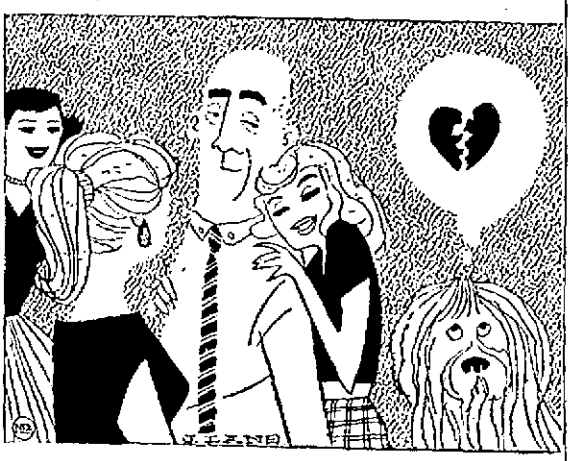

I ran for a tree.

As I looked down I saw it was my sheep dog — with a haircut.

My wife had gotten it for him that morning.

Now two of us were happy. Me with hair; my dog with none.

I'll bet he'll become the Don Juan dog of the neighborhood.

Deed Listed For Peskin Properties

Two parcels of Baltimore Street properly owned by Mrs. Martha L. Peskin have been deeded to Peskin's, Inc.

According to a deed filed yesterday in the office of the Clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, the buildings are located at 145-147 Baltimore Street and 131-133 Baltimore Street. Tax stamps indicated the value was about $168,900.

In April 1944 Mrs. Peskin, her late husband, Morton W. Peskin, and their daughter, Phyllis E. Peskin, organized the Peskin Realty Corporation, the name of which was changed to Peskin's, Inc. in July 1949.

The deed records that the purpose of the corporation was to take title to both of the properties, and the intention of Mrs. Peskin was to convey both properties to the corporation in exchange for certain stock and other considerations.

Appropriate corporate action was taken by the corporation to receive title to the properties. The stock and other considerations were taken care of and the deeds were prepared but not executed and recorded by Mrs. Peskin and her late husband, who died in January this year.

On May 2, 1949 the J. H. Holzschu Company and Liberty Trust Company conveyed to Mrs. Peskin the property at 145-147 Baltimore Street. On May 26, 1948 Harry L. Stigmaler conveyed the other Baltimore Street property to Mrs. Peskin.

Putting Teeth Into It

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Too many airman shirked their dental appointments so Brig. Gen. Paul S. Enrick, commander of the Sixth Air Division at MacDill AFB, hinted strongly at a guardhouse remedy in a letter which pointed out that missing a dental appointment "is tantamount to failure to report for a scheduled military formation."

Wall Street Hears...

NEW YORK — (INS) — Wall Street hears: Gardner-Whitcomb first half net will rise about 18 per cent on a 15 per cent rise in sales. A year ago net was $1.88 a share.

Marchant calculators' second quarter net will show some improvement over the first quarter but net for the first half will still be below a year ago when the first six months showed income of $1.65 a share.

Sales and earnings of Iron Pipe and Manufacturing are "showing a favorable trend over last year" when the company earned 68 cents a share.

New England electric has built its last hydro-electric power plant. All feasible sites on the Connecticut River have now been developed. Future power requirements will be met with steam units built at tidewater sites.

Safeway Stores sales in the four weeks ended mid-June broke all records.

Market comment—Herbert H. Weitsman of L. F. Rothschild & Co.: "It seems reasonable to expect continued active demand for desirable common stocks."

State Asks Bids For Two Forest Camps

Buildings Slated At New Germany, Near Lonaconing

Bids for construction of two State Department of Public Welfare Forestry camps in Garrett County at New Germany and just across the county line from Lonaconing will be opened July 11.

The camps are to be operated by the State Department of Public Welfare in cooperation with the State Department of Forests and Parks. Each will be similar to the camp already located at Green Ridge State Forest and which was established in May 1955.

The camps each will accommodate 25 boys who will be assigned from the Maryland Training School for Boys and Boys Village of Maryland. The successful operation of the Green Ridge camp was instrumental in the decision of the Maryland General Assembly of 1956 to provide necessary funds for the expansion of the program with the two additional camps.

Three buildings will be constructed at each location; one to house the kitchen, dining area and recreation area, to be 104 feet long and 20 feet wide with an additional 40 feet by 32 feet ramp-up room at one end; a staff cottage to contain an office, five bedrooms, combination living-dining area with unit kitchenette and two baths, to be 49 feet by 24 feet; and a dormitory building, 133 feet by 20 feet, which will house the 26 boys, with toilet facilities, locker room, staff quarters and storage room. All the buildings will be one-story structures.

Bids are being requested on two different types of construction, one in cover prefabricated type metal buildings and the other to provide for frame construction. If the metal buildings are used they will be mounted on concrete block foundation walls with concrete slab on grade. The frame structures will be constructed on piers. The contracts will include interior partitions, heating, plumbing and electrical installations, with utility lines extended five feet beyond the building lines.

Part of the boys' training at the camps will be to accomplish complete interior finish of floors, ceilings, shelving and walls, as well as extending water lines and sanitary lines. They also will work in the fields.

Drive-in Disturbance Results From Prank

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—McAlester Police Lt. Elmer Durant investigated a disturbance at a drive-in theater caused when a stranger grabbed the public address system microphone.

NEWBERRY, S. C. (AP)—Willie L. Mills, who recently retired as a rural mail carrier, estimates he traveled 400,000 miles in his 36-year delivery career. Mills began with a horse and buggy on a 24-mile route, ended up with an automobile and a 50-mile circuit.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The only thing Sol Sheeman could tell police about burglars who raided his store was that they probably drove away very slowly. Their loot included 1,430 eggs.

Social Security Office To Remain Open Saturday To Help Disabled

The Cumberland Social Security district office will be open Saturday, in addition to its normal weekday schedule, to accept last-minute applications from severely disabled persons who may be eligible for benefits.

James E. Robertson, district manager, said Saturday's hours will be 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. He pointed out that people disabled and unable to work over a long period of time must apply before June 30 for disability benefits on "frozen" records. Otherwise they may lose their right to disability payments and also their own and their family's right to old-age and survivors insurance payments.

Any severely disabled person who has worked under Social Security for at least five years and has been disabled for six months or more should get in touch with the Cumberland district office right away. If he is between 50 and 55, he may be eligible for monthly disability payments. If he is under 50, he may be eligible to protect his future right to disability payments as well as the rights of himself and his family to old-age and survivors payments.

Town Employee Refuses Offer Of Pay Raise

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—An unexpected objection developed recently when the city council of nearby Ottawa decided to grant some raises to city personnel.

The superintendent of the sewage disposal plant said he should not be given a $25 increase because of the poor financial condition of the Ottawa treasury.

Despite the objection, council authorized the pay increase.

50 or over, or to have your Social Security record frozen," said Robertson. "You must have Social Security credit for at least five years of work in the 10 years before you became disabled. At least a year and a half of that credit must be for work during the three years just before disability began."

"In addition, you must have a disability which, in the words of the law, makes you unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity. It must be the kind of 'frozen' record."

Law Protects Expectant Dogs

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—In Akron it is against the law to desert "expectant" female dogs.

This little used provision of the Municipal Code came to light recently when an Akron man, Howard L. White, moved to a nearby trailer camp.

Dog Warden Cornelius Yarnman charged White with animal desertion for failing to take with him his black fox terrier who, Yarnman said, "is an expectant female."

Too Close

Traffic safety officials say a motorist who can read the license number of the car ahead while traveling at average highway speed is following too close. Failure to maintain a safe distance behind the vehicle ahead is one of the top ten causes of highway accidents.

Carp can live at any depth, provided there is enough oxygen in the water.

Geese Flee As Dry Lake Suddenly Fills

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP)—When it finally rained hard here, it was too much for a flock of 38 geese at the Chillicothe Indian School.

The fowl were accustomed to the drought-stricken lake-bed which has been dry. When it began to fill up with rainwater, the geese didn't know what was happening and ran for the dry bank.

Cosmetic Firm Will Employ 50 At Old Tannery

Paw Paw To Be Tri-State Center

Avon Products, Inc., leading cosmetic and toiletry manufacturers and distributors, announced today the opening of additional warehousing and distribution facilities at Paw Paw which will employ 50 persons at the start.

Robert C. Madden, general manager of the Mid-Atlantic Division of Avon, said the area to be handled by the Paw Paw organization will be West Virginia, Virginia, western Pennsylvania and part of Maryland. Direction and overall supervision of the new facilities will be handled from Newark, Del., headquarters of the Mid-Atlantic Division.

Grass Cutting Set For Fall Along Levees

Good Growth Needed Before Any Action Is Taken By City

Grass which has grown to some height on the West Side flood control levee probably will not be cut until late in the summer. Some residents of the area had raised the question about when the city would cut the grass, which they estimated to be 10 inches high in some spots. The query was put to city engineer Charles R. Nuzum and Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz yesterday.

Nuzum said the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers at an inspection several weeks ago informed the city it would not advise cutting before next year or at the earliest date—September.

San Protection

Their reasons, it was said, was based upon the fact that if cut, the tender young grass would be dried out and killed by the summer sun. In places other than Cumberland where a similar situation exists, the Engineers advise cutting the grass only twice a year.

Buchholz had already scheduled the levee grass for cutting but as a result of the conference with the engineers revised his thinking.

Nuzum further explained that along with grass, an annual Italian rye grass had been planted to provide shade for the tender roots. It is this rye grass that is the highest at present but it is providing shade for the more tender grass and giving it a chance to root and grow Nuzum said.

Not To Be Raked

Buchholz said when the question of cutting grass was approached originally, the engineers said it should not be touched until it was 2 1/2 feet high and that the city should make only one cut a year. The grassed area is never to be raked, Buchholz said, adding that the city has equipment on hand and is ready to begin cutting the grass when it receives the go-ahead.

Another and most important aspect behind thinking on the care of grassed plots is that they will prevent erosion, the commissioner said.

Although the city is responsible for maintaining the levee, Buchholz said it is bound by a manual on maintenance set up by the Corps of Engineers.

Variety Show Will Be Held Here July 17

A variety show featuring television radio and recording talent will be presented Wednesday, July 17, at 8 p. m. at the Fort Hill auditorium by the Cumberland Exchange Club in connection with the brace clinic it conducts in cooperation with the Allegany League for Crippled Children.

The program will feature Abbie Neal's Ranch Gals, winners of the Arthur Godfrey talent contest recently; Bobby Brent, billed as the "Elvis Presley" of the fair sex; the Rusty and Doug Quintet, a lively hep cat outfit, and other artists.

Abbie Neal's band is rated as one of the top big bands, and the Rusty and Doug outfit has gained recognition in recent weeks with two Hickory label records, "Mr. Love" and "Money."

John C. Golden, a veteran night club entertainer, will serve as master of ceremonies for the two-hour program.

Tickets for the show have been placed on sale, according to Walter Brock, president of the Exchange Club.

Church To Honor New Pastor Today

Trinity Methodist Church will hold an informal reception for its new pastor, Rev. C. Thomas Subeck, today at 8 p. m. in the church social hall.

The program will include group singing, selections by the Junior Choir, under direction of Mrs. Marion Smith and brief talks of welcome by Pauline Nixon, representing the Church School; Betty Martin, WSCS, and Sandra Reuschel, MYF. The official welcome will be made by C. Glenn Watson. A representative of the Ministerial Association will attend.

Couple Draws Sentence In Morals Case

Robert Moss Given 18 Months; Wife Six Months Term

A 70-year-old local man was sentenced to 18 months in the House of Correction, and his 43-year-old wife to six months in the Maryland Reformatory for Women, at a hearing this morning before Juvenile Magistrate Fred H. Anderson on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Prior to sentencing the couple, Robert J. and Dorothy Marie Moss, Magistrate Anderson pointed out that they had been convicted on similar charges in Juvenile Court in 1948, and that a condition of a parole which was granted at that time by Magistrate Thomas Stakem specified the couple cease harboring minor children at their home.

The case was prosecuted by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher, who in his concluding remarks termed the Moss residence on North Centre Street "a foul nest in the community for many years." The couple had been under scrutiny for many years, Fletcher said, but it had been difficult to obtain evidence against the couple.

Nine Girls Testify

This was due to the reluctance of the young people concerned, and their parents, who did not want any publicity concerning their actions. It was only through the cooperation of the various police and investigating bodies in Cumberland and Allegany County that the case was finally brought to trial, the state's attorney said.

Nine girls, ranging in age from 11 to 18 years, testified at the hearing which began yesterday afternoon. City Police who were called to testify included Detective Lt. James E. Van, Sgt. James W. Brown, Detective George Forstberg and Officers Donald H. Smith, Oliver Cook and George Pfeiffer.

The officers each stated that the actions of Moss, employed by a detective agency, had been common knowledge for a number of years, but that efforts to stop the Mosses from bringing young children downtown during the early hours of the morning had met with no success.

The young girls told the court that they had been in the habit of going to the Moss apartment at all hours, and in many instances staying there overnight. Several stated under questioning that Moss was in the habit of walking about his apartment with little clothing on, and in several cases was nude.

Love Children

The Moss couple, represented by Attorney Julius Schindler, stated they accepted the young people at their home because it would keep them off the streets, that they loved children and felt the state should pay them for the expenses they had in making their home open to young children. In almost all instances, Mr. and Mrs. Moss said, the children came to their apartment with the approval of their parents.

Magistrate Anderson said that, some, if not all of the girls involved, were delinquent minors, but that that did not constitute a defense against a contributing charge. He also pointed out that apparent conflict in the testimony of the youngest girl could be attributed to a low intelligence, but that it was evident certain instances she related had left deep impressions.

Man, he continued, was advanced beyond the animal and should be influenced by moral aspects of the home and church. There was no such influence in this case.

campaign by adding prizes to the display case. The Hercules Powder Company safety award plan provides for four distinct awards—the introductory, plant manager's, director of operations, and the general manager's prizes. The laboratory has won the introductory prize once, the plant manager's, twice, and is working toward the director of operation's award.

Granting Of Beer License Is Opposed

A remonstrance against a Class D beer license for a North Mechanic Street location was filed today in the office of the Allegany County Board of License Commissioners.

The 24 signers, are against the Class D application made by William F. Jones, 308 1/2 Howard Street, for 116-118 North Mechanic Street, the Queen City Beer and Pool Parlor.

The remonstrants, with Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commander of the Citadel, as the leading signer, oppose the license on four points. One is that the premises owned by Garret W. Davis and James Alfred Avirett is located directly across the street from the Citadel where various types of religious services are conducted weekly.

Secondly, the petition points out that the Salvation Army has some type of youth activity almost every night, attracting several hundred young people.

The remonstrants also declare that within two blocks of 118 North Mechanic Street there are approximately 15 establishments where beer, wine or liquor are sold, and it "appears this would be sufficient."

The petition concludes by alleging that most of the business establishments other than those selling beer in the area are opposed to having another one of this kind in the neighborhood.

The commissioners have not set a date for a hearing on the remonstrance.

Two renewals were star routes from Cumberland to Barton and from this city to Flintstone and Artemas.

Albert L. and Mary V. Brown, of Wiley Ford received the contract to serve the Cumberland-Barton route with two round trips daily.

The route hits the Frostburg, Mt. Savage, Lonaconing, Midland, Barton, Corrigansville, Nip and LaVale and Wellersburg post offices.

Police Hold Two Armed Teen Bandits

Two teenage Everett, Pa., youths who are wanted for armed robbery and burglary by Pennsylvania authorities are being held in a cell at the LaVale State Police barracks after their capture yesterday in Garrett County.

The youths were expected to be taken today to Circuit Court for extradition hearings. They are Ronald Lee Stevey, 17, a native of Midland, and Allen Jackson, 18, Washington.

Lt. William E. O'Hara, commander of LaVale Barracks who figured in the arrest along with Capt. Charles W. Magaha, Troop B Commander, and Tfc. Milton G. Hart, said the two youths admitted taking a 1946 car and two new .22 calibre revolvers from Everett.

Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford, said the two youths held up a service station in Conant, Huntingdon County, Pa., after the theft of the jeep and revolvers in Everett. Huntingdon County is adjacent to Bedford County.

He said they surrendered to police after being cornered on a side road at Altamont in Garrett County.

Shortly after state police at LaVale Barracks had been alerted to the thefts, they received a call from a resident of the Altamont area who said two youths had been seen in that vicinity with the jeep.

A similar tip had been received that the two boys had been spotted in Franklin, near Westernport. Tfc. Hart and Westernport authorities checked on the tip.

Meanwhile Lieutenant O'Hara and Captain Magaha, who was in Cumberland on an inspection tour, left for Altamont, picking up Trooper Hart at Bloomington.

When they arrived at Altamont, police learned the two boys had left about five minutes earlier and were traveling in the direction of Kitzmiller.

Within a few minutes the police noticed the jeep coming back down the road. The youths apparently spotting the parked police car, turned around.

The police gave chase and cornered the youths about three-quarters of a mile away on a side road along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks at the Altamont Bridge.

Jackson was identified as the driver of the car.

County Rank Low In Pay To Teachers

Scales Increased Under Provision Adopted In 1954

Allegany County and 13 other counties in Maryland, plus Baltimore City, have increased teacher pay for the coming year. But there are only two other counties with lower salary scales than Allegany County's. Those are for Garrett and Dorchester.

Allegany County's teacher scale will go from a $3,200 minimum to $3,300, and the $5,000 maximum to $5,100.

The maximum next year will be reached after 15 years service, instead of the present 17 years.

Proposed For State

These raises are in line with the Green Commission salary schedule adopted by the state in 1954. By the 1959-60 school term, teachers will be reaching their maximum pays of $5,100 (if they get no raises) after only 11 years service.

Allegany County with its $3,300-$5,100 range is third from the bottom in the same category as Calvert, Caroline, St. Mary's and Wicomico Counties.

While the 19 counties have boosted their scales, action is pending in four and one, Wicomico has rejected an increase.

What effect these pay hikes are having on signing teachers for next school year or recruiting new ones isn't readily apparent. The State Department of Education says it does not yet have detailed reports from the counties on that subject, the Associated Press reports.

Leave Profession

But it's common knowledge that states throughout the country have been hard pressed to compete with one another in the face of a teacher shortage and low pay.

Besides heading for greener salary pastures in other states, many in the profession have taken better paying jobs in business or industry.

Most Maryland counties have taken the bait by the horns — so to speak — since Gov. McKeldin vetoed a bill passed by the Legislature earlier this year. It would have granted a $400 across-the-board hike and raised the $10,400-$10,600 needed through a cigarette tax.

McKeldin rejected the bill on grounds he previously stated, namely, that such pay raises were the responsibility of the counties and not of the State.

At present the State guarantees $2,800 minimum salary, but the counties and Baltimore City are well ahead of that.

Many Raise Pay Within a matter of weeks after McKeldin's veto, many counties had raised their school teachers' pay as much as $400. Others granted a one-year raise or bonus averaging about $200 in hopes that the Legislature will overturn the governor's veto next January.

A report released by the State Department of Education shows that some teachers in Frederick and Talbot counties can expect an additional $600 in their pay checks next year. Actually, the scales in those counties were boosted by less than that but it will take fewer years to reach the maximum.

For instance, in Frederick beginning teachers will get $3,600 instead of $3,200 and after 15 years will receive $5,400 instead of $4,800. The previous high was $5,000 after 17 years.

In Talbot, the hike is from $3,200 to $3,400 for instructors in their first year, and from $4,800 to $5,200 for those in their 14th. The maximum used to be $5,000 after 17 years.

Some Are Pending Baltimore City, Baltimore County and the Washington suburban areas of Montgomery and Prince Georges counties traditionally have set the pace. However, action on proposed $400 raises in Baltimore City and county are still hanging fire. In both the present range is from $3,600 to $6,100.

The Montgomery County Council has raised its minimum from $3,601 to $3,800 and maximum from $5,777 to $6,000 after 15 years. In Prince Georges, the scale went from $3,800 to $3,900 for beginners and $5,300 to $5,400 for those with 21 years' service.

In addition to Baltimore City and county, action is pending on proposed raises in Worcester and Somerset counties. In Worcester, the Board of Education has asked for $400 more and in Somerset, (Continued on Page 14)

COLLECTION DAY THURSDAY

Bedford Site Of Session By High Court

The Pennsylvania Superior Court met for the first time in history at Bedford County courthouse this afternoon.

At least four and possibly six of the seven members were expected to attend and hear a supersedeas argument involving abandonment of a trolley route in Philadelphia. Superior Court Judge J. Colvin Wright of Bedford said the court, by law, must hear such arguments in public.

The judges will remain in Bedford a few days in connection with the convention of the Pennsylvania Bar Association at Bedford Springs Hotel.

Bedford County Judge Richard C. Snyder welcomed the Superior Court to Bedford. Bedford attorney John A. Minnich, who is Judge Wright's law clerk, moved admission to practice before Superior Court of members of the county bar who had not been admitted.

The Superior Court session will be the first appellate court in Bedford in nearly 102 years.

It was August 11, 1855 that the U. S. Supreme Court sat there and heard arguments in the famous Passmore-Williamson case with Chief Justice Roger B. Taney presiding. No national or state court has operated there since that time.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court usually sits in Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Scranton and only occasionally at any other county seat.

$200. Spokesmen in the departments of education in both said the county commissioners may be expected to act within a few days.

Instructors in Wicomico have some balm even though the commissioners there turned down a requested $200 pay hike. The pay scale already set up calls for a $100 increase in the sixth year, $200 more in the seventh and the $3,000 maximum in the 15th year instead of the 17th.

Reach Top Earlier
One of the features typical of new scales in most counties is a higher increment earlier. In other words, instead of having to wait 15 or 18 years to get $400 more in pay, some teachers will be getting that much more by the seventh year.

Garrett County, Maryland's westernmost, ranked lowest in the minimum scale at $2,950 until it raised that to $3,100 this spring. Garrett still will be low on the totem pole if Somerset city fathers grant the board of education's request there for $200 more.

All these figures relate to teachers with a bachelor's degree. Counties usually pay more to those with a master's and doctor's degree.

Except for the localities where action is pending, here is a county-by-county rundown on the old and new teachers' pay scales:

Allegany $3,200-$5,000 after 17 years to $3,300-$5,100 after 15.

Anne Arundel $3,400-$5,200 after 17 years to $3,600-$5,400 after 15.

Calvert $3,100-$4,900 after 17 years to $3,300-$5,100 after 15.

Caroline $3,200-$5,000 after 17 years to $3,300-$5,100 after 15.

Carroll $3,200-$5,000 after 17 years to $3,300-$5,100 after 15.

Cecil $3,400-$5,200 after 18 years to $3,600-$5,400 after 15.

More Counties Listed
Charles $3,300-$5,100 after 17 years to $3,400-$5,200 after 15.

Dorchester $3,000-$4,800 after 17 years to $3,200-$5,000 after 15.

Frederick $3,200-$5,000 after 17 years to $3,400-$5,200 after 15.

Garrett $2,950-$4,750 after 17 years to $3,100-$4,900 after 15.

Harford $3,400-$5,200 after 17 years to $3,600-$5,400 after 15.

Howard $3,400-$5,200 after 17 years to $3,600-$5,400 after 15.

Kent $3,200-$5,000 after 17 years to $3,400-$5,200 after 15.

Montgomery $3,200-$5,000 after 15 years to $3,400-$5,200 after 13.

Prince Georges $3,600-$5,400 after 20 years to $3,800-$5,600 after 18.

Queen Annes $3,300-$5,100 after 17 years to $3,400-$5,200 after 15.

St. Marys $3,000-$4,800 after 17 years to $3,200-$5,000 after 15.

Talbot $3,200-$5,000 after 16 years to $3,400-$5,200 after 14.

Washington $3,400-$5,200 after 18 years to $3,600-$5,400 after 16.

Wicomico $3,300-$5,100 after 17 years to $3,400-$5,200 after 15.

Here is the range where action is still pending:

Baltimore City $3,600-$5,400 after 12 years.

Baltimore County $3,600-$5,400 after 12 years.

Wicomico $3,300-$5,100 after 17 years to a $5,100 maximum after 15 years regardless of action by the county commissioners on pay raise request.

Worcester $3,200-$5,000 after 17 years.

The contracts will run from July 1, 1957, to June 30, 1961.

City Receives Check From B&O

The City of Cumberland today received a check for $50,000 from the B&O Railroad in settlement of obligations involved in the closing of the Williams Street crossing.

The check came to Mayor Roy W. Eves who said he was turning it over to city auditor Arthur B. Gibson.

Eves said the amount would show up as a surplus at the end of this fiscal year but is already earmarked for additional expense in the 1957-58 fiscal year as the result of expansion projects undertaken by the city.

People in the United States are due to spend two billion dollars more for recreation in 1960 than they did in 1950 as a result of rising incomes and shorter working hours, reports the Twentieth Century Fund.

Hearings will be held Saturday morning at 9:15 in Police Court for several men taken into custody following a disturbance early Sunday morning on Central Avenue.

Three men, Charles Denmark, 315 Central Avenue; John E. Wilson, 320 Central Avenue, and John W. Cooper, Jr., 26 Bedford Street, have been released under bond of $100 each on charges of disturbing the peace.

City Police who made the arrests, explained today that the Cooper involved in the case is not John W. Cooper, also of the Bedford Street address, who owns and operates a tavern.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Many blame marital unhappiness on wife's choice of religion.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: AS a husband and father of four teenage children, I read your daily with keen interest, because of a badly mixed-up home situation.

My wife and I were active in church work when we married in 1935. Later I learned that she had vowed—just the day before we met—never again to keep company with any man. Yet she was first to offer a kiss, on one of our very first dates.

But she never accepted my family into her affections, is at odds with her own kin, and lately has cast off most of her former friends.

After many amicable years together, in which she never gave herself fully to her husband, however, nor accepted him as head of the home and of the wife (as the Bible teaches), she is now in complete revolt against the divinely instituted order. As a result, there is little harmony or happiness in the home, and seemingly little hope of any.

It all started four years ago, when, without my approval, she established herself and the children—willingly on their part—in a so-called pentecostal church, saying if she had to choose between the church and me, I'd lose. Two years later she decided to sleep apart from me...

Rigidly Evades Fundamental Help

DEAR G. Y.: The tone of your letter reveals a self-pitying, self-righteous conviction that your medical adviser, also your religious confidante, are just as defeated as you think you are, by your wife's wilfulness, as you see it.

And that's a clear illustration of at least 50 per cent of your trouble in marriage. Also it shows at least one department of living in which you don't think straight, and head into frustration of your own making.

The fact is, your consultants are defeated by you—not by your wife, who didn't apply to them. They are defeated by your rigid refusal to seek or accept the most fundamental help of all, namely, help in changing yourself. (The kind of help your wife thinks she's found, and is trying to utilize, in her pentecostal church life, I gather).

It is this brand of personal "evolution" that is called for, when a problem in human relations seems insoluble and intolerable. Such problems will never be deeply solved by either coercion or submission to the situation—as you have assumed mistakenly, in trying first one, then the other, of these "control" techniques.

A Kind Word For His Wife

For some unknown reason, your specialist advisers have neglected to put you wise to the saving truth that you must change, heart and soul, psychologically speaking, if you are to have a satisfactory life, either in

Report Given On Deer Kill

ROMNEY — During 1956 a total of 553 deer were reported killed in West Virginia, not counting those slain during the regular season. According to Thomas Sanford, District 2 game manager, a variety of causes contributed to the non-season deaths.

With Hardy County leading the eight eastern counties in the non-season deer mortality with 63, Hampshire had 46, Grant 37, Pendleton 34, Mineral 30, Morgan 19, Berkeley 11, and Jefferson 3.

In the Eastern Panhandle automobiles, crop damage permits and illegal kills (other than those killed illegally during season) accounted for most of the losses. Other causes were dogs, fences and trains.

In 1955 only 334 deer were reported killed. Conservation Commission authorities feel that the higher mortality rate points to an increase in the deer herd.

During 1956, 87 deer were killed throughout the state on crop damage permits. In 1955, only 47 were killed on permits. During 1956 the non-season losses occurred in 45 counties. In 1950, 30 counties reported such losses.

As of April 30 of this year, there already have been 131 reported non-season kills in the state. In 1955, at the same period, the figure stood at 106. In the Eastern Panhandle counties, 67 deer were reported killed by April 30 compared to 38 at the same time in 1955.

Fees On Trust Deeds, Mortgages Effective Monday

KEYSER — A new fee on the recording of deeds, trust deeds, mortgages and other such transactions goes into effect Monday in Mineral County.

The fees are being assessed by the Mineral County Board of Education, made possible by the passage of "permissive" legislation at the 1957 session of the Legislature.

The law permits boards of education to assess fees of $2.20 per $500 valuation, or fraction thereof, for the recording of all deeds, deeds of trust and mortgages at the county clerks' office.

That means on a real estate transfer involving $10,000 valuation a fee of $44 will be imposed on and after Monday. Assistant County Superintendent of Schools E. M. Welshone estimates the new fees will bring an estimated $12,000 annually.

Cumberland has always had a warm spot for Jack Dempsey but the feeling would be downright hot except for a "veto" on the part of Maryland's governor 38 years ago.

The story of how the great "Manassa Mauler" came close to being crowned heavyweight boxing champion of the world right here in the Queen City instead of Toledo, Ohio, has been told many times. But it bears repeating because of an incident that occurred last week in Dempsey's New York restaurant off Broadway.

The idol of millions of fistie followers recalled the events leading up to his championship while conversing with J. William Hunt, Sunday Times editor. The latter was in New York with a group from the national marbles tournament at Asbury Park, N. J. and Dempsey, playing the part of the genial host, posed for a picture with the party in the restaurant that bears his famous name.

"May I Play Hard and Say 'Hello' to You in My Restaurant Where Food and Friendliness are Knockouts?"

This is Jack Dempsey's message to Cumberland's Kayo Christner, "my old sparring partner."

Jack, upon learning that Hunt hailed from Cumberland, talked about the "near miss" on the Willard fight and about Kayo Christner, the former heavyweight who operates the Capital Bowling Alleys here.

"Before you leave, stop over at my table, I'd like to talk to you a little bit about Cumberland," Dempsey remarked to Hunt, and the Times editor chatted with the all-time ring great for about five minutes. Then Jack penned a personal note on the back of a post card and asked Bill to deliver it to Christner.

Kayo helped Dempsey prepare for his second losing fight with Gene Tunney, the battle of the controversial long count in Chicago, by serving as one of Jack's sparring partners. That was in 1927.

Five years later, on February 11, 1932, at Cleveland Christner again felt the sting of Dempsey's famous fists as Jack was attempting a comeback. Kayo, who only three years earlier, missed an opportunity of fighting for the world championship when the vote went against him in a slam-bang battle with Jack Sharkey, was knocked out by Dempsey in three rounds.

On the front of the postcard on which Dempsey wrote his message to Christner was a picture of the battle at Toledo. That scrap was staged on a sizzling July 4th afternoon at Bay View Park Arena and Dempsey provided all of the fireworks by knocking out Willard in three rounds.

Official receipts for that memorable savage contest were $452,522.10. The attendance was listed at 19,650.

Dempsey, who had just turned 24, dethroned Willard by peppering him with ferocious uppercuts and tigerish body blows. The giant Willard tottered about the ring, his face in a pitiful condition, covered with cuts and bruises, and he probably would have lost his head as well as his crown hadn't one of his seconds tossed in a towel to halt the massacre.

All of these memories from one of fistiana's greatest productions would have been a rich part of Cumberland's sportslore hadn't it been for the objection of Emerson C. Harrington, governor of Maryland in 1919, the year the fight was staged.

The late John W. Snyder of Cumberland had Tex Rickard convinced that Cumberland was an ideal place for the Dempsey-Willard match. Rickard, who was to become a fabulous promoter, came to Cumberland to "look over the lay of the land" and approved the area in the vicinity of the old Six Mile House on Route 40 for the title bout. But Gov. Harrington said "No" and the battle was moved to Toledo.

Dempsey received only a $27,500 guarantee for that fight but has since become a millionaire. Nat Fleischer, the boxing historian, reveals that Dempsey, through his ring profit and earnings from movies, referee tours, etc., has earned $10,568,114.

Dempsey celebrated his 62nd birthday this past Monday but, according to editor Hunt, his hair still shows a lot of black and he appears to be in great physical condition. But most of all, he has a great memory, never forgetting old friends like Kayo Christner.

Residue From The Sports Keg

The three-under-par 68 that Carroll Boggs shot Monday at Fountain Head Country Club in a pro-lady tourney was a great round, but it wasn't the best ever made by the local pro on the Hagerstown course. . . . Carroll has won a number of tournaments in the Hub City and on one occasion when he copped a pro-am event there, he fired a smoking 66. . . . His 68 of Monday gave him second place behind Charley Bassler of Baltimore who had 67. . . . Boggs got off to a great start Monday by touring the first nine holes five strokes under par. . . . However, the round was only the fifth of the year for Carroll, whose duties as manager of the Cumberland Country Club cut down his appearances on the course, and he tired badly on the back nine. . . . He hit the ball well in the last half of his round, but his game of concentration went to pod. . . . Altoona (Pa.) Catholic High School is looking for a football coach due to the resignation of John Clancy who gave up the post to enter government work. . . . Anyone interested in the teacher-coach position are asked to write to Father Vincent Luther, principal, or to Jack Weidmann, director of athletics, at the Altoona school. . . . The Red Sox, perennial contenders for Cumberland's Little League honors, have lost the services of Pat Wilson, center fielder and third baseman. . . . Pat was injured Monday while chasing a fly ball in a game with the Phillies at East Side and X-rays show a fracture in the right wrist. . . . He will be out for the season.

Women's Invitational Starts Tomorrow

80 Golfers To Compete, Play Begins At 8:30 A.M.

Approximately 80 golfers will tee off tomorrow in the seventh annual Women's Invitational Golf Tournament at the Cumberland Country Club. The handicap event will get underway at 8:30 a. m. with tee-offs on the first and tenth holes.

Tentative pairings were made last night for 76 contestants, but several late entries are expected to boost that total. Several dozen out-of-town golfers will be playing practice rounds today, including Capt. Lucile Busch of Hollywood, Calif., the defending champion.

Mrs. Eiler Starts Play
The honor of starting the two-day event will go to Mrs. Fredric Eiler of Cumberland. Mrs. John Patterson (Country Club of Maryland), Mrs. P. L. Smith (Congressional) and Mrs. Henry Paddock (CC of Maryland).

The contestants will play in twosomes with Mrs. Eiler and Mrs. Patterson, both with handicaps of 20, swinging off the tenth tee and Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Henry Paddock taking the No. 1 tee. The latter twosome has a 15 handicap.

Open To Public
The tournament is open to the public and the biggest galleries are expected to follow Mrs. Maurice Glick, the perennial Baltimore City champion, Capt. Busch and Cumberland's Jean Bibby.

Mrs. Bibby holds the course record for amateurs, having shot a sensational 72 on June 2 to knock a stroke off the old mark of 73 which she set last year.

Mrs. Bibby, with a 3 handicap, will tee off at 9:55 a. m., pairing with Mrs. Paul Strelt of the Army-Navy Club. Although she will be the sentimental favorite of local goldmines, Jean has never been at her best in the CCC tournament, probably due to the pressure of other duties. She is chairman of the 1957 tourney.

Mrs. Glick, whose home course is Woodholme, will tee off with Mrs. Edward Ferry of Chevy Chase Country Club at 10 a. m. Both are "scratch" players. Mrs. Glick will fly here today.

Last Year, Mrs. Glick lost by three strokes to Capt. Busch, the latter showing a 36-hole gross score of 161 on nine-hole showings of 39, 39, 43 and 40. Sponsored by the Women's Golf Association of the local Country Club, the tournament will be a medal-play event this year for the third straight time. It was an 18-hole test prior to 1955.

Pair with Capt. Busch tomorrow as the Army officer goes in quest of a second straight leg on the Old Export Bowl will be Mrs. Joseph Smyth of Goose Neck (Va.) Country Club.

A check-in buffet supper will be held at the club this evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock for contestants.

Thirteen members of the Cumberland club have entered the tourney with the breakdown also showing 14 players from Con-

Braves Have Sorry Mark With Lefties

MILWAUKEE — Walter Alston, soft-voiced manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, regrets he has but one lefthander to unloose against the Milwaukee Braves.

He opened a three-game series here last night with rookie southpaw Danny McDevitt, only recently recalled from St. Paul, and was rewarded with a four-hit, 2-5 victory. It was McDevitt's second victory against one loss and gave him an earned run average of 1.68 for 25 innings.

"If Johnny Podres (6-3) and Sandy Koufax (4-2) were ready, I'd feed the Braves three southpaws in a row," Alston said after the game. "I prefer to use lefthanders against them anyhow."

And well he might. The Braves, with only three victories in their last 11 games, have a sorry 4-11 won-lost record against left-handers.

Both Alston and manager Mayo Smith of the Phillies, before him, think that the local pennant hopefuls will see a lot more lefthanders in the days to come.

"They're a little like our club," Alston said. "They haven't seen too many lefthanders until recently. Lefthanders seem strange to them."

Throwing a lefthander against the predominantly righthanded power of the Dodgers is like committing "hari kari" with a baseball.

But, this theory doesn't hold true against the Braves, especially now that righthanded slugger Joe Adcock is out for two months with a broken leg. The Braves' only other righthanded power hitter is Hank Aaron.

NEW YORK (AP)—Hogan (Kid) Bassey, the newly crowned featherweight champion and the first Nigerian to hold a world boxing title, today was named Ring Magazine's "Fighter of the Month."

Bassey's knockout of the favored Cherif Hamia in their title fight Monday also dropped the Frenchman to the role of No. 1 contender as New York's the Chestnut climbed to second with his victory over Kid Anahuac of Mexico.

Among the heavyweights, Roy Harris' defeat of Willie Pastrano moved the Cat and Shoot, Tex., lad into sixth place behind champion Floyd Patterson. Pastrano dipped from No. 3 to No. 5.

Baseball Men Criticized For 'Piracy' Acts

By ARTHUR KRANISH
WASHINGTON (INS)—New York City Council president Stark charged today that the proposed Dodger-Giant shift to the West Coast is a "shocking spectacle of organized, officially sanctioned piracy."

Stark told congressional baseball investigators that New York is weary of "engaging in hat-in-hand bargaining with baseball club owners who have no loyalty to their fans."

But a leading congressional advocate of the West Coast move, Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif.), said major league baseball should have expanded to the West Coast long ago.

Stark charged that New York's 90-year tradition as a National League city has been "arrogantly and callously" cast aside by league president Warren Giles and club owners.

The city council president declared:

"If the leaders of baseball are genuinely interested in the establishment of a new major league for the Far West, then let them be courageous enough to work toward that goal instead of changing the names and addresses of existing teams."

"And that applies to the mayors of Los Angeles and San Francisco who think that piracy is the proper way to develop the national sport and to serve as an example for children to follow."

Stark said that to keep the Dodgers and Giants in New York the city is willing to "close streets, provide parking facilities and assist in the acquisition of additional land through negotiation or condemnation."

Won't Spend Money

But speaking for himself, Stark said he has no intention of voting large sums of public money. He declared: "I would rather spend such money on that kind of baseball which is truly a sport—sandlot baseball which benefits thousands of children."

Hilling testified on behalf of his proposals to place the purely business aspects of professional sports under the anti-trust laws.

He said: "Baseball is a business and is not entitled to complete exemption any more than the industries of steel, television and motion pictures."

HERMANS SEEK LEAD IN CITY RACE TODAY

The City Softball League race, knotted Monday evening when Knights of Columbus whipped Old Exports, 2-1, to tie Hermans for the lead, will be broken this evening when the Hermans meet Old Exports at Penn Avenue Field. The Cascays will be idle.

The Hermans, who have been beaten in the last two starts, take a record of six wins and two setbacks into their clash with the Mountain Water club. The Old Exports are 4-4 for the year.

Blue Ribbon Bakery, 2-1 conqueror of the Hermans in their last outing, will tangle with Old Germans at Stitzer Field in today's other tilt. The Bakery have one win and six defeats while the Old Germans have bagged two of seven starts.

Both of today's contests begin at 6:15.

Urges Newspapers As Reading Tools

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — An expert on the subject says newspapers should be available in classrooms, offices, libraries and lounges of schools to encourage reading.

Dr. Roma Gans, Columbia University reading-specialist, suggested newspapers as "reading tools" at a conference of Michigan school teachers and principals. "Too often," Dr. Gans said, "teachers are ordered to teach without proper tools."

Bidding Leads To Grand Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The Texas regional championships will take place this year at San Antonio over the July 4 weekend.

While the field will include at least a dozen present and past National titleholders it is a sure thing that the very strong local pair of Walter and Bobby Wolff will be in the running for the trophies.

Today's hand illustrates their excellent slam bidding. Bobby, sitting North, looked at his hand a couple of times extra when his partner opened the bidding with one club. He intended to get to some sort of a slam but he had two problems in the bidding. Did Walter really have a club suit and did Walter hold the ace of hearts?

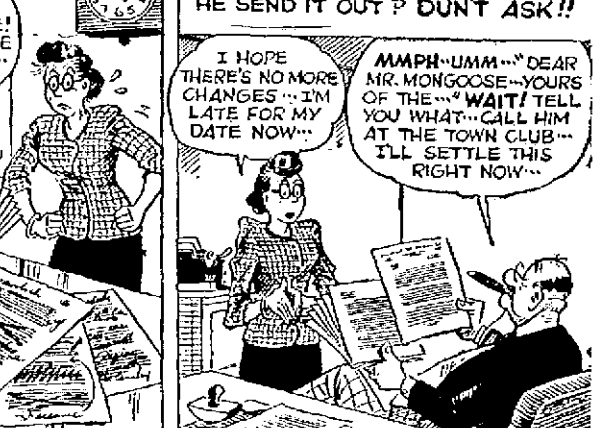

Walter solved both problems for him very quickly. Bobby started toward the slam by making the normal response of two spades, and Walter confirmed his

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Thursday, June 25, 1957

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Good Neptune and Pluto aspects favor outdoor activities and confidential matters but day, on the whole, cautions against extremes, overdoing. Moderation important.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Pleasant though not over-optimistic conditions, a fine period in which to "take stock" in business, home and personal matters. Do not worry or overtax yourself. Think calmly, and what you cannot do now, do later.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—The day will be mostly what YOU make it, and you have the necessary mental equipment, intuition and ingenuity to make much out of mediocre material. Think smartly before acting, then don't overdo.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Friendly vibrations. Routine matters, even difficult tasks can run smoothly, pleasantly—if handled calmly. Be tactful.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Very mild solar rays; but this can be to the good—it keeps you from overreaching or being too ambitious. It is better to accomplish a little with ease and confidence than to overtax mind and body by rushing.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—Similar to Taurus now. A prudent, fruitful day if handled intelligently, without anxiety. In your general, useful busy self and you will find satisfactory returns for your efforts.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—Your rays similar to Gemini today. Work and play with hope and cheerfulness, and you will be surprised at how quickly problems will diminish and the day's fine points show up brightly.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—Neptune's fine influences, which, after the day's activities and, since you can look forward to a very favorable tomorrow, plan wisely for it.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius)—Days are neither stimulating nor unduly. Carefully consider the "musts" and the essentials, then allocate tasks and chores according to their importance. You can do very well indeed.

DECEMBER 24 to FEBRUARY 23 (Capricorn)—Some beneficial influences (Neptune and Pluto aspects) can be used to advantage. Back your ambitions with extra effort and you can't lose.

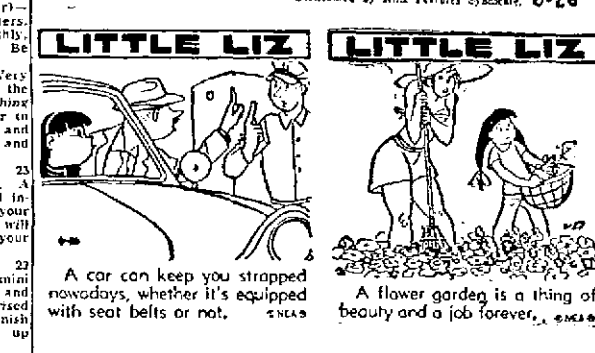

FEBRUARY 24 to MARCH 23 (Pisces)—Generous influences in your career. Your Neptune is the most auspiciously placed planet today. Avoid narrow, doubtful. Be your capable self, seek God's guidance, and you will prosper.

YOU BORN TODAY are diplomatic, friendly, capable, kind and sympathetic. Appreciate these admirable qualities and develop them fully so you can profit by them. Protect your personal assets for the sake of your family, children, and for your future. You have musical ability, a talent for entertaining; could be an interesting salesperson, public speaker, manager of a business or public project; are original, with a magnetic personality. Curious, restless, needless anxiety. Birthdate: Leonardo Hearin, author. (King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

club suit by rebidding to three clubs. Many players would have tried two or three no-trump but Walter had plenty of time for that.

Bobby's second bid of three diamonds was unusual but it gave Walter a chance to show his heart ace. He did so by bidding three hearts.

Bobby was now sure of a club grand slam but a no-trump grand slam would count more so Bobby asked for aces by bidding four no-trump. When Walter showed one ace only Bobby jumped to seven clubs.

Walter considered seven no-trump for one moment only and then passed. He assumed that Bobby knew what he was doing.

Q—The bidding has been:
North—East—South—West
2—Pass—2—Pass
3—Pass—4—Pass
5—Pass—?

A—You, South, hold:
N 7 6 5 4 3 2
S 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
W 7 6 5 4 3 2
E 7 6 5 4 3 2

Q—What do you do?
A—Bid five diamonds. Your partner may be trying for a slam but you can't move with those two little hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Your partner continues by bidding five hearts. What do you do now?

Time And The River

RICHMOND, Va. — (UP) — Richmond's 300 jail prisoners won't be sent up the river. They'll be sent down the river. That's because an express way toll road will run through the site of the present city jail and the best quarters the city could find was a river terminal warehouse a mile below the city.

14 Hurt In Two Traffic Accidents On Route 40

HAYRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP)—Seven persons were injured last night when a bus ripped itself open on the rear end of a steel-laden truck. Two hours earlier and 10 miles south, seven people were injured when two cars collided.

Both accidents occurred on heavily-traveled U. S. 40.

The truck was turning left through a cross-over of the dual-lane highway when the Philadelphia-bound Trailways bus came over a small hill and struck the trailing edge of the flat bed trailer.

11. Arthur W. Lilley of the Perryville Volunteer Fire Department, said a long, four-foot wide hole was gouged in the left side of the bus just below the windows at seat level.

Six ambulances sped to the scene. Injured were turned away from a hospital here, about one mile south of the accident scene, because there were no beds available. Five were taken 12 miles north to Elkton and two made the 30-mile trip southward to Baltimore.

Injured Identified
The injured were:
Union Hospital in Elkton—James Franklin Currie, Raleigh, N. C., sent to surgery for serious leg injuries; Mrs. Goldie Smith, 47, Rocky Mount, N. C., possible leg fracture; Mrs. Laura Anders, 30, Galax, Va., undetermined injuries; Mrs. Alma Benson, 38, Philadelphia, undetermined injuries; James Pate, 47, Philadelphia, fractures of both legs.

Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore—Calvin Smith, 51, Charlotte, N. C., injured left leg and back; Helen Warfield, 60, Baltimore, fractures of both legs.

There were about 12 people in the bus, witnesses said.

The earlier accident occurred nine miles south of here near Aberdeen.

State Trooper R.M. Manley said a car driven by Arvil Howard Ray, 18, of Pylesville, drove onto U. S. 40 from Belcamp Road into the path of another car. The second car was driven by Richard Kearns, 37, of Winchester, Va.

Others Hurt
The injured were:
Ray, admitted to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for observation; Donald Keese, 15, Whiteford, Md., a passenger in Ray's car, admitted to Johns Hopkins with head injuries.

Kearns, admitted to Sinai Hospital, Baltimore, with head cuts and possible internal injuries; his 5-year-old son, Richard, admitted to Sinai with head cuts; Kearns' daughter, Ann, 11, admitted to Sinai with possible wrist fracture and internal injuries; his 8-year-old daughter, Alison, admitted to Johns Hopkins with head injuries; and Mrs. Alison Cooper, 63, Winchester, Va., admitted to Hopkins with head cuts and fractured ankles.

FOUND SLAIN—Shirley Kyle, 10, above, was found dead today in a wooded ravine near her home in Gladstone, a Kansas City suburb.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kyle, she had been missing about six hours when her partly-clad body was found. Police are searching for a teenage youth with a record of sex offenses for questioning. (AP Photofax)

Identical Twins Top Scholars

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash. (AP)—There are two notable differences in Port Townsend's twin Foy sisters.

1. Cecile Annette is valedictorian of her 1957 high school graduating class and Yvonne Marie is salutatorian.

2. Cecile has a straight "A" record for four years. Yvonne has one lonely, miserable "B" to mar her record.

Otherwise the 17-year-old twins are like the proverbial peas in a pod. Both were named after the Dionne quintuplets, on whose birthday anniversary they were born in 1939. They plan to go to different colleges.

Tougher Rabbits

LANDER, Wyo. (AP)—Wyoming rabbits are so tough they aren't even afraid of dogs. Ask Queenie, a 10-year old rabbit hunter whose owner, Sandy Jackson, tells this story:

When Queenie cornered a rabbit in a field near Lander, the bunny turned on the dog and clamped its teeth firmly on her nose.

As Queenie reared backward in surprise and pain, she lost her balance and rolled down a hill with the rabbit still hanging on her snout. Then the rabbit bounced away, leaving Queenie with a new respect for rabbits and hardly any enthusiasm for hunting.

Slayer To Die By Gas Friday

BALTIMORE (AP)—The gray steel gas chamber in the State Penitentiary, successor to the gallows as Maryland's executioner, is scheduled to receive its first victim Friday.

The execution of Eddie Lee Daniels is planned for 10 p. m. Warden Vernon L. Peppersack said today. Daniels was convicted by a Montgomery County jury June 12 of killing his former employer, Arthur E. Chyatte, during a robbery of a Silver Spring car wash company.

The 28-year-old Washington Negro's conviction was upheld by the Court of Appeals.

Unless Daniels is granted a last minute commutation by Gov. McKeldin, his execution will be the first in Maryland's history by gas. The rope was abolished as the State's method of capital punishment for criminals convicted after June 1, 1956.

"Father of Gas Auto"

Father of the gasoline automobile in the U. S. was an inventor named George Selden, who applied for a patent on a "road engine" on May 8, 1879. This patent dominated the industry until Henry Ford successfully challenged it in court in 1903.

Aluminum ore is called bauxite, named for the French village of Les Baux, where it first was identified.

Airline Acts To Prevent Canines' Disappearance

NEW YORK (AP)—The lot of an airline is not always a happy one, take dogs. In today's world, dogs fly daily. They arrive mostly, however, in the middle of the night on cargo planes, it seems. You go to exercise them, or shift their crate, and wool—they vanish into the darkness of the airfield.

Such was trans World Airlines' problem last week. "Mickey," a combination terrier and cocker spaniel, en route from Kansas City, Mo. to Binghamton, N. Y., flew the coop, or leaped the crate, if you prefer.

TWA advertised for a black dog with a white chest spot, and three days later gratefully received a lost dog, black with a white chest spot.

The dog was shipped to Binghamton, and TWA drafted an office memo about being more careful with dogs that arrive in the middle of the night at big airfields.

Meanwhile, not far from Idlewild Airport as a dog trots, "Blackie," a beagle, had vanished from his Rockville Centre fireside. Blackie wore a New York State license tag.

Investigating, TWA discovered that was Blackie up in Binghamton. He was hastily flown back and restored to the bosom of his grieving family, Caroline Silfs, 10, and her brother Philip, 8.
